Another Arab War
Senate and Sugar
Would End Strikes
Mystery of Finance

A NOTHER war has broken out, following wholesale murders in Palestine. Jews and Arabs are boycotting each other in business. The Anglo-Palestine bank refuses bills of credit to Arabs. The latter boycott the Sulenberg Electricity company and the Jewish bank.

British airplanes start real work, with Arabs killed and wounded, their friends convinced that Mohammed is not as powerful as was supposed.

Christians are as much interested as Jews in the outbreak. Once a religious war starts, the Mohammedan fanatic abhors equally the murder of a Christian or a Jew. If anything, the Arabs might favor the Jews, to whom they are racially related. From the Jewish religion Mohammed borrowed much for his Koran.

It has been said that the Koran was written by an educated Jew for Mohammed, who probably could not write, although he certainly could speak.

The senate is discussing tariff. One hundred and twenty million Americans, who eat sugar, beet sugar men, Louisiana sugar men, sugar growers of the whole world, are interested in sugar.

A high sugar tariff really means protection, a national subsidy of millions, for employers of Asiatic labor in Hawaii and the Philippines.

Sugar comes duty free from those places belonging to Uncle Sam; Asiatics do the work. Their employers get the profit. Not much of it will go to sugar growers on this continent. Our friend China, good customer and neighbor, would be ruined by a high tariff. If anything could ruin so many people.

Britain's Labor government seeks a way to "end strikes and lockouts." In recent cotton strike workers lost $5,000,000 a week in wages. Mills lost $7,000,000 a week in export trade, and must fight to get it back.

Arbitration is the only way. If the Labor government can find arbitrators that both sides will trust, persuade employers to play fair and union men to keep bargains when they find they don't like them, it will render insatiable service to Great Britain and teach this country something it needs to learn.

From the material point of view, Russia will gain by her "continuous industrial year."

There will be no stoppage of machinery, on Sunday or other days, during 360 days each year. Five other days, six in leap years, will be devoted to patriotic, bolshevik holidays.

Each man will have his rest time, longer than under our six-day and Sunday plan, but machinery will never stop except for repairs.

To make machines work all the time and give men reasonable leisure would be the ideal program. But, of course, Sunday should not be neglected—especially on a basis openly hostile to religion.

The International Congress of Psychotherapy learns that married life brings the male mind closer to the feminine mind.

Investigation of "sex differences, primarily non-intellectual," said Doctor Erman, shows that married life weakens "mental masculinity."

Naturally and fortunately, men were once all cannibals, all murderers, all thieves. To meet a stranger was to kill him or run so that he would not kill you. Women had to change that gradually. In their husbands and in their little boys also. They have done it partly. Much work remains for the feminine mind.

Finance is a mystery, understood least by the man who thinks he understands it.

Britain lent millions to France, and France now is drawing gold from London, worrying the Bank of England.

The French lend money on call at 2½ per cent, while complaining of poverty caused by the war. This rich country in the world lends call money at from 9 to 20 per cent. A French business man can borrow money on time loans for 3½ per cent. American business men pay 6 to 8 per cent.

Today the stock gamblers and investors probably will start again cheerfully. August was a great month. Two hundred and forty representative stocks increased in value by four thousand, four-hundred and sixty-five million dollars.

Colonel Lindbergh says a boy must have some imagination to get him out of trouble—not too much imagination which might distract him from his flying. And the American boy must not know what fear is.

Lieutenant Doolittle possess the necessary requirements. While showing what an airplane could do, above the Cleveland airport, he stripped the wings from his plane and jumped at 2000 feet with his parachute. He immediately asked for a new place and went up to compete in "upside-down" flights.

MARY J. WOOD CASE TO BE RETRIED HERE

A motion for retrial of the Mary J. Wood case was filed with the county clerk Tuesday. It is expected to be heard again in the October term of court. This case involves the will of Mrs. Wood, deceased, in which there is an estate amounting to about $400,000. Two wills were filed in probate court, one of which left the estate to Albert B. Lincoln and Mrs. Huston, brother and sister of the deceased; the other named Wm. F. Austin and others business partners of the deceased's husband, also deceased.

The case was tried in the July term of circuit court before Judge Guy Smith and a jury. It required about two weeks to present the testimony and for the lawyers to make their pleadings before the jury. The jury sustained the opinion of the probate court by deciding in favor of the Lincoln-Huston interests.

The case was bitterly fought by a large array of able attorneys from Detroit. The appellants were represented by the law firm of Stevenson, Butzel, Eagan & Long, and Monahan & Crowley of Detroit, and the Lincoln-Huston interests by Lodge & Brown of Detroit. The Supreme court has ordered the case to be retried.

The trial involves a tremendous expense for the service of high priced attorneys and for witnesses who have to come here from long distances and remain here throughout the trial, many of whom come here from California, New York, and other distant states. Crawford county too shares in the expense in having to provide the costs of the court. The first trial cost the taxpayers of Crawford county over $1,200. There appears to be no legal procedure for passing that expense onto the litigants. The latter may reimburse the county if they feel so inclined and it is hoped they will, when the case is finally settled.

The fine new structure home of Cliff Durant is under construction on the South Branch river as well under way. The lower part of the walls are finished and it is expected the building will be enclosed in time so that interior work may proceed during the cold weather season.

The structure is being built of cut stone and brick and will be about 150 x 50 feet in size. The cost is claimed to be in the neighborhood of $200,000 when finished. There is a crew of about 70 men on the job and work is progressing rapidly.

Mr. Durant owns about 15 miles of river frontage and about 2,000 acres of land. Some time ago he purchased the Charles Downey estate interests which is located on one of the most beautiful spots along that wonderful stream. The Downey club is known to the state for its exquisite beauty and layout on the river. Here landscape artist has added the touches that add charm and pleasure to the place. Under the ownership of Mr. Durant it is bound to become still more complete and beautiful. Adding to the convenience of the place is a well arranged airplane landing field with appropriate hangars.

Peninsula, October 10 to October 20, inclusive.

Partridge, Prairie Chicken—Lewer, Peninsular, October 10 to October 20, inclusive.

Pheasant (male), Fox Squirrel—October 25 to October 31, inclusive.

Woodcock—October 15 to October 31, inclusive.

Florida Gallinules and Rails—October 1 to November 30, inclusive.

Deer and bear—November 15 to December 30, inclusive.

Cottontail rabbits. Varying hares—Snowshoe or Jack rabbit—October 1 to January 31 in upper peninsula; October 15 to January 1 in lower peninsula, inclusive.

Muskats—Lower peninsula north of Townline 16 and west of Saginaw Bay, November 15 to December 15, 1929.

May be killed at any time—Coyote, wolf, lynx, wildcat, fox, weasel, skunk, mink, woodchuck, owls, crows, and starling.

Season is closed on the following: Moose, elk, caribou, mourning dove, wood-duck, black-bellied and golden plover, yellowlegs, swan, eider duck, and Hungarian partridge.

Appended to the season schedule is a note to hunters. The note says:

"Know your game laws, both state and federal. Read them carefully. Know what you're doing before you do it. Ignorance is no excuse in the eyes of the law. No sportsman will willfully break a game law. There is no excuse for him to do so unknowingly."

No changes have been made in the costs or obligations of various small game licenses, excepting that only citizens of the United States are eligible.

Small game licenses remain at $1.25; deer, $2.50; and muskrat trapping $1.00 for 20 traps for residents; and small-game licenses $10 and deer $50 for non-residents. Resident citizens and their children and employees are exempt from purchase of small game licenses or muskrat trapping fees which hunting or trapping on their own enclosed lands upon which they are regularly domiciled.

The digest of game laws to be issued in about a month will contain a revised list of sections of the state in which special game laws will prevail.

Speaking of law violation, maybe we ought to send a lot of dentists to Congress and the legislature to put teeth in the statutes.

DIGEST OF NEW GAME LAWS

BEAVER CREEK FARMERS THRESHED

Homier Annis says that the farmers of Beaver Creek are all thru with their threshing for this year and that they had good yields of oats and rye.

He and his crew of men hustled into the work and got thru with it in about five long days. They threshed for the following farmers:

George Annis.
Tony Nelson.
Albert Moon.
Wayne Morehouse.

Enus Anderson.
Hjalmar Mortenson.
John Canfield.

A. B. Failling.
Ted Leslie.

There is one thing, Homier says, with the men never neglected and that was meal time. And such appetites! Now, he says, he understands why people remark when an extra hungry man sits down to a good dinner, that he eats like a thresher. And we surmise that the housewives weren't slow about giving them all they wanted of good food.

AMAZING FACTS

When one visualizes a railroad grade crossing accident, it is to see a gigantic, speeding locomotive crash into a small automobile destroying the car and maiming the occupants. But this is not always the case.

Last year more than 25 per cent of all grade crossing accidents resulted from automobiles running into trains, either standing or in motion. The increase in such accidents was several times greater, when compared with 1927, than the increase in accidents caused by trains striking cars.

The public, in spite of intensive accident prevention efforts by the railroads and others, grows steadily more careless and indifferent to danger.

It is an economic truth that to eliminate all grade crossings would be a financial impossibility. The taxpayers and the railroads have spent tremendous sums reducing grade crossings; only to have more grade crossings demanded than ever before.

The railroads have spent millions installing safety devices to warn the public. Courts have now held that responsibility for seeing that a train does not come at a railroad crossing rests on the driver of the automobile. A little care on the part of motorists and all such accidents would be prevented, and thousands of lives saved each year.

MOST crime reformers are trying to kill an elephant with a pop gun.

At the present time in this country there is an organized "business" of such a one as you have been cannot be the first importance with clear-sighted executives, high-priced lawyers, for this man and for every truly and almost endless resources in money and affections.

To attempt to fight the underworld by prohibiting law-abiding citizens from owning pistols and guns, is nothing short of absurd. It would be like fighting out of season fishing by prohibiting all fishing.

Basic reasons for crime, such as public spathy, graft, antiquated judicial procedure, the power wielded by sentimentalists, a burden of laws and red tape, are commonly overlooked by well-meaning reformers.

Without an aroused public consciousness against the menace of the criminal, nothing can be done. Once that consciousness is aroused, the day of the proselytized criminal will be over, and when crime is not prosperous it will not flourish.

The more laws, the less criminals punished, is a proven axiom. Clever lawyers, taking advantage of technicalities, can twist evidence out of all semblance to reality. Sob-sisters sway juries and pardon and parole boards. As a result, more criminals go free in this country than in any other civilized nation.

To reduce crime we must strike at the root of the evil, i. e., conditions which encourage crime.

"John," said his wife over the telephone, "you must come home at once. I have mixed up the plugs of the vacuum cleaner and the wireless; and the loudspeaker is sticking all the paper on the wall!"—Shawaway Advertisers.

Statistics show that the number of railroad robberies has dropped nine-tenths per cent in the past two years. Most of the yeggs evidently have gone into the automobile field.

AMAZING FACTS

According to a European scientist woman's nature has not changed any during the past five thousand years. Maybe she makes up for it by changing her mind frequently.

Judging by his diplomatic rough work at The Hague, Mr. Snowden does not propose to be snowed in, or perhaps we should say, snowed under.

Next to the speed maniac, deliver us on the open road from the fellow who drives like he was making slow motion pictures.

The population of Jackson is the highest on record. Which proves that it is possible for a community to grow without a commercial club.

ONE POSSIBLE DISASTER

The one terrible thing in this world, in the view of Ecclesiastes, is to be without a friend. To have nobody to love, nobody to be loved by, nobody to speak to when you are happy, nobody to speak to when you are sad, nobody to grow old with, nobody to meet life with, nobody to pray for, nobody at whose prayer God might bless us; to have nobody to believe in you in all weathers, nobody to be with you in some hard place and to be with you at the last; nobody to shed a tear for you when at length it is apparent that you are about to leave this world; nobody to follow your quest to the grave in sorrow.

At the present time in this country there is an organized "business" of such a one as you have been cannot be the first importance with clear-sighted executives, high-priced lawyers, for this man and for every truly and almost endless resources in money and affections.

Mrs. Menno Corwin (Helen Flynn) was called to Rose City last Thursday by the death, that morning of her brother John Flynn age 20 years old, who was almost instantly killed in an auto accident. The car he was driving collided with one driven by May McClung, of that place. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Flynn of Rose City.

Monday and Tuesday the weatherman gave us a real touch of fall weather. Since then the weather has considerably moderated and today it looks much like real Indian summer. Slight frost Tuesday night nipped a lot of vegetation and soon the leaves will take on their most brilliant hues. Then Northern Michigan will take on its proudest arrayment and nature will smile its gladdest.

The new State garage is nearing completion. It is 50 by about 150 feet in size, built of concrete blocks. It is well lighted by large steel and glass windows and has an attractive arched roof. The interior is free from supporting pillars, leaving the floor space clear and is highly convenient for handling the numerous large trucks, snowplows and other equipment. The rear part is set aside for repair work. When finished this will be one of the finest garages in this part of Michigan.

There will be no services in the Danish-Lutheran church next Sunday nor the Sunday following as the pastor will be absent. Rev. and Mrs. Kjolhede left this week accompanied by Peter Peterson as far as Grant, Mich. From there they went to Chicago where the Reverend will officiate at the baptism of a little granddaughter. After a few days in Chicago they will go to Askov, Minnesota, where he will ordain a couple of young men into the ministry.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES
OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, September 13, 1906

Mrs. Johnson and daughter Matilda are enjoying a visit in Calumet and Houghton.

Mrs. Henry Trumley went to Lewiston Saturday to spend Sunday with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Fournier have gone to Notre Dame, Indiana, where Arthur enters school and will return via Detroit for a vacation and visit.

The Crawford County Farmers' Telephone is now working finely in connection with Roscommon, and with most of the farmers homes between the two villages.

Mrs. Lee Winslow has been enjoying a visit from her father, from Colorado for some days past.

Miss Edith Chamberlain began a term of school in the Wakeley-Pym district down the river, last Monday.

W. Stewart of Beaver Creek, had an unpleasant piece of luck last week, in the losing of the best horse out of his team.

Lars Nelson got an ankle jammed between the carriage and a log in the big mill last week, so that he has been forced to take a vacation.

O. R. Shook has gone to Illinois on a business trip, but will probably be home next week. He is so seldom out of town, that it is a surprise to his friends.

Ed and Lew McCallum are erecting a fine commodious residence for Mr. Van Gilkey, an engineer on the M. C. Road, on Park street, just off Michigan Avenue, east.

Miss Katie Bates left Monday for Alma College, where she will continue her course of study, from the time of her graduation from our high school. She will be missed by our young people.

Judge Sharpe and stenographer Austin were on-hand Monday for the opening of the September term of our Circuit Court. There were three criminal cases and six chancery, on the calendar. The following jury was drawn: S. B. Brott, F. R. Deckrow, H. Buick, P. Moran, J. L. Royce, Geo. S. Collen, John Leever, S. W. Carter, J. C. Kernes, H. Schreiber Jr., F. Kite and O. B. Scott.

Married—At the residence of the bride's father, Albert Kraus, of this village, Tuesday, September 11, Miss Francis Kraus and Manuel B. Wienberg, Rabbi Dr. Farber of Detroit officiating.

H. Head of South Branch was in town yesterday and reports 16 loads of clover from his two and a half acre field as large as three men could put on the wagon. He claims the champion piece in the county, and we think he may be right. He went down to the soldiers' reunion at Pinconning in the afternoon.

Lovells Items

Mrs. Underhill returned from the East Saturday. The Dr. is expected this week.

Thomas Walkling spent the past week at Detroit.

Miss Margaret Husted commenced a nine months term of school here Monday, the 10th.

The farmers are busy gathering their buckwheat and seeding.

Beaver Creek Items

The Old People's dinner at Henry Moon's was a grand success. Dinner was served under a large tent in the yard. The next meeting will be at the home of H. Christensen.

Axel and Bernhard Christensen and George Stapleton returned from the U. P. last week.

The dance at H. G. Benedict's last Saturday night was well attended and report a fine time.

"Konjola Only Medicine That Benefited Me"

Ten Terrible Years Of Suffering
Speedily Ended By This New And Different Medicine

MRS. HURL AIKENS

"I had suffered ten long years with stomach trouble and weak kidneys," said Mrs. Hurl Aikens, 35 Pine street, Detroit. "Even the lightest foods caused distress, and whatever I ate laid like a sudden mass in my stomach. There it fermented and caused gas, bloating and heart palpitation. As my kidneys did not function properly my system filled with poisons."

"I heard so many fine endorsements of Konjola that I decided to give it a trial. Just four and a half bottles and my digestion was restored, and I can eat and enjoy a hearty meal. The kidney trouble is practically gone. To Konjola goes all the credit for my new health, and I recommend it to everyone who suffered as I did."

Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich., at the Mac & Gidley drug store, and by all the best druggists in the towns throughout this entire section.

HOOSIER GROUP HAS WONDERFUL VACATION

Roy C. Harris, Fort Wayne, Ind., August 29 wrote the East Michigan Tourist association expressing pleasure over the enjoyable vacation which he had in Michigan. In his letter he states that a group of four which accompanied him on a twelve day camping trip during which he visited six different state parks, enjoyed the finest vacation they had ever had. "We thoroughly enjoyed the fine Michigan highways, even the sand trails through the forests," he writes. "We were very much surprised and delighted with the various convenience of the state parks." Mr. Harris and other visitors visited Mackinaw City, Rogers City, East Tawas, Houghton Lake, Jackson and Clare.

Drugs and Cut Flowers
The effect of aspirin and forty-three other chemicals when placed in water containing cut flowers was tried by two botanists in a series of tests and they report that these substances do not add to increasing the life of cut flowers.

If your automobile doesn't make the hill on high, maybe the gasoline you have been feeding the engine is deficient in Vitamile A.

Inevitable

We might as well accept the inevitable as the inevitable for there is no escaping death or taxes. Too often we cross bridges before we come to them, and burn our energies up in useless and sinful worry. In fact, the greatest sins of the world are selfishness and worry. They are the tap-roots of all sins.

Did not the immortal poet write for us:

"Cowards die many times before their deaths;

The valiant never taste death but once.

Of all the wonders that I yet have heard,

It seems to me most strange that men should fear;

Seeing that death, a necessary end,

Will come, when it will come."

Piano Pupils Wanted

I have returned to Grayling to resume my teaching of piano. I shall be glad to meet any of my old pupils and others who wish to take piano lessons. Call Sorenson & Son's store.

Anglo-American Agreement on Naval Limitation Getting Nearer.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

RAMSA MAC DONALD, prime minister of Great Britain, told the assembly of the League of Nations in Geneva that he and Ambassador Dawes in their many conversations concerning naval armament limitation had reached an accord on seventeen of the twenty points under consideration, and that he hoped to be able very soon to announce a full settlement. But dispatches from Washington and Geneva indicated that the three points unsettled were vitally important and that on these Great Britain and the United States were still far apart. They involve fighting values of vessels armed with 6-inch and 8-inch guns. General Dawes sent a long communication to the State department and it was considered at a White House breakfast attended by Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Adams, and the members of the navy general board. Cruiser tonnage figures were not made public, but it was learned that the British cruiser requirements, though less than in 1927, were still far above the tonnage figures favored by President Hoover and would not give parity for the United States even if all our fifteen cruisers are built. The British insist they must have a large number of small cruisers, outside of the parity figures, to protect the world's sea lanes and protect British shipping.

Both Mr. MacDonald in Geneva and American officials in Washington were hopeful that the points of difference could be adjusted, and the prime minister said that as soon as this was accomplished he would formally announce his intention of visiting the United States to confer with President Hoover and Secretary Stimson.

Aristide Briand, premier of France, invited the chief delegates of the European nations in the league to a meeting for the purpose of hearing his plans for a political, economic and social federation of European powers. He wished the delegates to submit the scheme to their governments and ask for their suggestions. Briand made it clear that the proposed federation is not aimed against the interests of the United States of America. Both Ramsay MacDonald and Dr. Gustav Stresemann seemed to like Briand's plan.

THAT the League of Nations would adopt the Kellogg pact outlawing war as its policy was a probability, made strong by the fact that such a course was said to be favored by Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Japan. In his opening speech before the assembly Premier Briand declared the pact was really framed in the ideals of the league and, following him, Foreign Minister Hymans of Belgium advocated a closer linking of the pact with the covenant of the league. He held the former was infinitely stronger than the covenant because it interdicted all wars of aggression while the covenant of the league left the door open for war when the council was unable to reach unanimity as to the identity of the aggressor. "The covenant is already old," he said. "The Kellogg-Briand pact embodies progress."

A DHERENCE of the United States to the World Court for International Justice came a big step nearer when delegates of forty countries belonging to that tribunal unanimously accepted the Root protocol, which was later approved by the assembly of the League of Nations. The United States government was officially notified of this action.

FOREIGN MINISTER STRESEMANN of Germany and his fellow delegates to the reparations conference at The Hague reported the results to the German cabinet and received the unanimous approval of the other ministers. The cabinet agreed to take all necessary measures to make the German people realize that The Hague agreement really represents a step forward and not a defeat as the German nationalists are trying to label it.

In his address before the league assembly Premier Briand of France declared that at the reparations conference he would have been untrue to peace and concord if he had allowed "several millions of money" to prevent France from helping to liquidate the problems of the great war. Had he held back on concessions he would not have been entitled to be welcomed back to France. The nations must be held to their agreements.

On the evacuation of the Rhine land by the British and Belgian forces have been issued, and the French made it known they would try to obtain the same results by a resolution directing the finance committee to get the finance tax information from the treasury.

FOUR hundred officers and men, picked as the best of the army's engineering forces, were ordered by Secretary of War Good to duty in the jungles of Central America to survey the route of the proposed Nicaraguan canal. Their findings and report will go far toward determining whether or not the government will undertake to build that waterway, the estimated cost of which is about a billion dollars. The survey, which will require two years, will be supervised by the interoceanic canal board appointed by President Hoover.

CHICAGO mourns the death of two of her best citizens, Judge Frank Comerford of the Superior court, and William E. Dever, former judge and mayor. Judge Comerford, who was in the prime of life, was justly regarded as one of the city's most valuable jurists—courageous, wise, honest and a determined upholder of the dignity of the courts. Elected to the Illinois legislature when but twenty-six years old, Comerford was expelled from that body because of his attacks on corrupt members, but he was sent back by his constituency. Physical disabilities kept him out of the army when war was declared, but he was active in other ways in his country's service. He was elected to the bench in 1920, and presided in several notable cases. Mr. Dever, who lived most of his life in Chicago, was classed as a truly great citizen. He was a leader of Democrats for many years, and his record both as judge and as mayor was excellent.

Frederick F. Proctor, builder of New York's first vaudeville theater and originator of the vaudeville chain, passed away in Larchmont, N. Y. He rose from errand boy and circus performer to the high position in the theatrical world which he relinquished last May when he sold his chain of more than twenty theaters to another corporation.

MRS. CALVIN COOLIDGE was given the honor of christening the new light cruiser Northampton Thursday, when it was launched at Quincy, Mass. The name of the 10,000-ton vessel was selected to honor the former President, whose home is in Northampton, Mass. He was unable to be present, however. Secretary Adams represented the Navy department, and Mrs. Coolidge was accompanied by a large delegation of Northampton citizens.

STEWART ANNOUNCES 5 TO 7 TONNER

Has Heavy Duty 6 Cylinder Motor, Largest Timken Rear Axle Made, 4 Wheel Booster Brakes, 2 Speed Auxiliary Transmission

The Stewart Motor Corporation of Buffalo, New York, announces today a new 5 to 7 ton, model 27X, priced at $5,700 chassis.

This new 5 to 7 ton is of unusual rugged construction. The frame is 10 inch deep at the center section, having flanges 2½ inches wide top and bottom. The 6 cylinder motor has a bore of 4¾ and a stroke of 5½-7 bearing crankshaft and full force lubrication.

Standard tires are solids, 36x7 front, 40x7 dual rear. Pneumatic tires, either 40x8 all around duals rear or 42x9 all around duals rear, will be supplied at extra cost.

The standard wheelbase is 165 inches with an optional of 150 inches. Other wheelbases that can be supplied are 175, 190, 220, and 235 inches.

The rear axle is the latest type Timken worm, full floating type. The rating on this axle is 20,000 pounds.

The housing is of ½ inch steel stamping with reinforced sleeves of nickel steel which carry the wheel bearings.

The shafts are 2 5/16 inches in diameter, made of nickel chromium alloy.

The front springs are 40 inches long, 3 inches wide and have 14 leaves of high alloy steel. The rear springs are 56 inches long, 4 inches wide and have 14 leaves. Helper springs, which are standard equipment, have 6 leaves. All spring eyes are bushed with phosphorus bronze.

The front and rear motor supports, likewise the side transmission supports, are mounted in rubber cushioned brackets, thereby absorbing road shocks.

Steering gear is of the cam and lever type. Vacuum booster 4 wheel brakes are standard equipment.

The transmission is the dual type, giving a speed range of 8 forward and 2 reverse. A "low-low" for pit work and rough going, of 93:8:1 is possible. A flexible truck for heavy-duty performance.

Standard equipment includes, painting chassis Stewart green with red wheels, electric starter, lights and horn, battery, tool kit, rear tire carrier, spare rim on pneumatics, windshield wiper and mirror on all closed cabs, front bumper, tow hooks, front and rear, thermometer, oil cleaner, air cleaner, gas cleaner, stop light, gasoline gauge, handsome instrument board, equipped with gauges and indirect lighting for night driving.

Stewarts are sold and services locally by T. E. Douglas, Grayling, Michigan.

Some free trader advances the theory that by putting a tariff on green vegetables we are going to deprive the American people of their vitamins and subject them to disease, and next we expect to read that the tariff on stockings has created an epidemic of housemaid's knee.

The Kingly Eagle
It is not the eagle of the naturalists who sits above our standard, but the eagle of legend and history which for centuries typified strength and swiftness and all the virile attributes of the warrior and above all else, freedom.—American Magazine.

THE REPORT CARD

The school notes will appear in this weekly beginning with next week's issue, and continue throughout the school year.

The staff has been elected from the literature classes, and will do their best to make the "Report Card" a success.

The following are the members of the staff:

Mary Mahncke—Editor in Chief.

Lawrence Kesseler—Editor's Assistant.

Karl Sherman—Boys' Athletics.

Evelyn Johnson—Girls' Athletics.

Thorwald Sorenson—Boys' Glee Club.

Loretta Sorenson—Girls' Glee Club.

Joseph Kesseler—Joke Editor.

Walter Korhonen—Assistant Joke Editor.

Eleanor Gorman—Grade Editor.

Gladys Morse of Lansing dressed as an Indian princess gave an illustrated health talk to all the children of the grades.

Mrs. Morse told in a very delightful way how happy we should be that we do not believe in evil spirits as the Indians did and that we are educated in ways of being healthy.

Miss Morse is a representative of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and while here is a guest of Miss Alice Hunter, teacher in English.

CURING SOCIAL ILLS

Michigan now has the most drastic liquor laws of any state. The Cuthbertson law, which went into effect during the closing days of August, provides penalties so severe for violation of the prohibition laws that it would seem the most daring would hesitate to violate them.

There also seems a disposition on the part of the enforcement machinery of the state to impose these penalties without fear or favor, so for the first time we will have an opportunity to find out just how much social reformation can be accomplished by legislation. The outcome will be watched with more than passing interest.

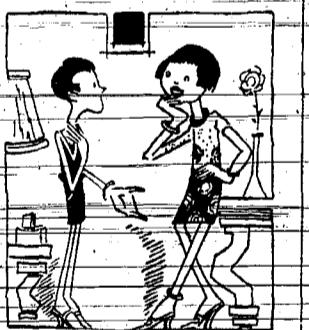

ODOROUS STREAM

"How did the Oder river in Prussia get its name?"

"Probably from the Limburger cheese made on its banks."

LAUGHED IT OFF

"I sold my dress was so shocking that I shouldn't wear it."

"What did you do then?"

"Oh, just laughed it off!"

OF COURSE

"Do you know what 'Oah' would make a good aviator?"

"Of course not, neither do you."

"Sure, I do. How about the flying fish?"

OUTSTRIPPED THEM ALL

"And there's something in which she has outstripped all her rivals!"

"Yes—in clothes."

Graham-Paige Has Always Had Four Speeds Forward

The first Graham-Paige ever built offered the great advantage of four speeds forward with standard gear shift—now time-proved in the hands of thousands of owners. A 25% reduction in engine speeds at all road speeds adds a new thrill to motoring... silent smoothness with flashing acceleration and greater economy.

This outstanding feature, and the many important body and chassis improvements, are reasons why you should see and drive a 1930 Graham-Paige before buying any motor car.

Porch Lunches

For all sympathize with the stricken lady on shipboard who, when the steward approached her with a dish of jelly, inquired, "Steward, take that away! It wobbles so it makes me sick!" We may sympathize—but probably it will be with an air of condescension, for we are on no wobbly ship, on our own porch, with the dappled light filtering through the leaves, and the garden scents drifting lazily up to soothe us. But more than that, there is the ideal conclusion to an idle porch luncheon, on the table in front of us. Yes, a gelatin dessert. Not one that we have eaten time and again, but something a little new, a little different, intriguing. Just what? Why, here are the recipes:

Product of the Vine
Grape Sponges—Soak two tablespoons gelatin in 1/2 cup cold water. Bring three cups grape juice, one cup water and one-half cup sugar to boiling point, pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. When cold and beginning to stiffen, add one tablespoon lemon juice, one cup of canned-moist coconut, one-half cup of vacuum-packed walnuts and one-half cup of cream, whipped. Chill in molds.

Strawberry and Pineapple Foam—Dissolve one package of lemon
